Workplace First Aid Kits – A Necessity!

FYI

First Aid In Your Workplace

Australian workplaces are required to have appropriate first aid equipment available and accessible for all employees. A workplace is most commonly identified as an office, warehouse, manufacturing facility or a construction site. Trucks, delivery vehicles and company cars also constitute a workplace and require appropriate first aid to be on board.

First Aid Site Assessment

A periodic assessment schedule of your workplace first aid equipment will allow you to identify hazards and determine typical injuries or illness that may require rapid treatment. The assessment should also consider number of employees and work area design as first aid should be easily accessible and available within minutes of the injury location.

Assessment Guidelines For Workplace First Aid

As business operations are constantly changing to meet customer demands your workplace first aid requirements may also require adjustments.

High Risk Workplace

A High Risk Workplace describes an environment where workers are exposed to hazards that could result in serious injury or illness and would require first aid. Some examples include:

- Use Of Hazardous Machinery Or Substances Onsite
- Extreme Heat Or Cold Working Conditions
- Risk Of Falls
- Hazardous Forms Of Work

Low Risk Workplace

A Low Risk Workplace describes an environment where workers are not exposed to hazards that could result in serious injury or illness. Offices, shops or libraries are common examples and potential work-related injuries and illnesses requiring first aid would be minor in nature.

Simplified Workplace First Aid Solution

FYI

FIRST AID KITS

All workers must be able to access a First Aid kit. This will require at least one First Aid kit to be provided at their workplace.

First Aid Kit Contents

The First Aid kit should provide basic equipment for administering first aid for injuries including:

- Cuts, scratches, punctures, grazes and splinters
- Muscular sprains and strains
- Minor burns
- Amputations and/or major bleeding wounds
- Broken bones
- Eye injuries
- Shock.

The contents of First Aid kits should be based on a risk assessment. For example, there may be higher risk of eye injuries and a need for additional eye pads in a workplace where:

- Chemical liquids or powders are handled in open containers
- Spraying, hosing or abrasive blasting operations are carried out
- There is any possibility of flying particles causing eye injuries
- There is a risk of splashing or spraying of infectious materials
- Welding, cutting or machining operations are carried out.

Emergency Deluge Showers

Combination Deluge Shower And Eye/Face Wash

- Complies With AS4775-2007
- Provides Comprehensive, All Round Protection
- Non Clogging And Self Cleaning
- 230 x 200mm Aerated Delivery Area
- Face Wash Flow Rate Is 30L/min At 140 Kpa
- Shower Flow Rate Is 75L/min At 140 Kpa

Constructed of Stainless Steel for durability the Eye/Face wash is engineered to provide a fast cleansing, low velocity first aid curtain of aerated water that washes eye and face contours gently, efficiently and safely. Push handle and connecting foot pedal activated bowl and shower is activated by a rigid pull handle delivering floods of water without voids in the shower pattern for faster decontamination. Unit features individual spray head volume control, assuring proper spray pattern under varying water pressure. The minimum recommended water supply for the unit is 25mm IPS. It requires 32mm (1.25" BSPM) standard 1650mm above floor level. Standards recommend 15 minutes continuous water during an emergency.
